BIOGRAPHY

Louis joined LCM Avocats in 2025 and is currently completing his articling period. His primary areas of interest include civil and commercial litigation, arbitration, and sports law.

As part of his combined Law and MBA studies at Université de Sherbrooke, Louis completed internships with regional and national law firms, as well as within the legal department of a company in the railway industry.

His academic path notably included an internship with the Cour du Québec, Civil Division, as well as participation in the Sports Arbitration Moot, an international advocacy competition where his team earned Runner-Up honours for Best Legal Research. He also contributed to the second edition of the Guide de l'arbitrage LegisPratique by collaborating on the writing of a chapter on international arbitration. As part of his pro bono involvement, he wrote an informational guide on the administration of non-profit organizations.

Outside of his practice, Louis is passionate about sports, particularly hockey and baseball. Dedicated to giving back to his community, he served as a volunteer head coach in minor baseball for two summers, earning recognition at both the municipal and regional levels.
